Divining Donato

Due in early June in red-hot Redwood City (joining the just-opened Martins West), Donato Enoteca will offer a pan-regional Italian menu from Bergamo native Donato Scotti (formerly of La Strada). Expect weekly rotating handmade pastas, plus wood-fired pizzas, antipasti and traditional meat and fish courses, all washed down with boutique Boot vinos. In addition to a 60-seat wraparound patio, seating options will include a casual dining area with a view of the open kitchen, an enoteca dominated by a marble-topped bar and a formal 70-seat dining room juxtaposing modern and old-world design elements. The whole shebang will be open for lunch and dinner, served until 11 PM on Fridays and Saturdays (1041 Middlefield Rd., Redwood City).
